Vermonters at New Haven, Ct.

In the year 1906 a few loyal and enthusiastic sons and daughters of Vermont residing in "The Elm City" organized the Vermont Association of New Haven.

Article two of its by-laws reads: "The object of this association is to promote social intercourse among its members, to perpetuate common memories and to celebrate events in the history of Vermont."

Article three reads: "Any person living in the state of Connecticut who is a native of the state of Vermont, or who is a son or a daughter of a native of Vermont, or who is married to a native, or to a son or a daughter of a native of Vermont, may be chosen a member of this association by vote of the executive board."

The first regular meeting was held on Dec. 17th, 1906, with 31 charter members.

The association usually has three meetings a year: a banquet in mid-winter; a sugar party in the spring; and its annual business meeting the last of October, at which time the officers for the next year are elected and all other matters of business attended to.

The officers of the association are a president, vice-president, a secretary and treasurer and a committee of three. These constitute the executive board with general control.

A remarkably large number of the members of the association go to Vermont each summer and very interesting features of the annual meetings are the stories they have to tell about the things they have seen and the people they have met back at home during the summer.

The association has grown steadily from the start and now numbers about eighty members. The officers are: president, Mr. Franklin K. Hickok, formerly of Morrisville, Vt.; vice-president, Dr. Jay W. Seaver, formerly of Craftsbury, Vt.; secretary and treasurer, Mr. George H. Fyler, formerly of Burke, Vt.

The annual sugar party is the great event of the year. It is held each spring as soon as new sugar from Vermont can be had. The sugar is served in real Vermont style—on snow. The snow is procured in mid-winter and put in cold storage until wanted.

The sugar party for 1913, which was the seventh annual, was held in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. Building at New Haven, Friday evening, May 2nd, the members of the association and their guests numbering about one hundred. An unusually fine musical program had been arranged which was much enjoyed by all.

About ten o'clock the sugar was ready to serve. Unique features of the table decorations were maple trees reaching to the ceiling. The maples were tapped and fitted with miniature spouts and buckets, even the familiar sap yokes being in evidence: one could almost believe he was in a Vermont sugar place; and when the delicious hot sugar and the snow and the plain doughnuts and the other fixings were brought on, the illusion was complete.

The president of the club acted as toastmaster and the flow of wit and wisdom that followed proved that Vermont is a mighty good place to come from and to go back to.

After the speeches the floors were cleared and the party ended shortly before midnight with the good old Virginia reel.—The Vermonter.

FIRM FOUNDATION

Nothing Can Undermine It in Morrisville

People are sometimes slow to recognize true merit, and they cannot be blamed for so many have been humbugged in the past. The experience of hundreds of Morrisville residents, expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources, places Doan's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation here.

W. H. Howard, 23 Randolph St., Morrisville, Vt., says: "I suffered from kidney weakness. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and caused me no end of annoyance. Soon after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, that I got at Cheney's Drug Store, I was relieved. A few boxes made me feel like a different person. I was able to sleep well and all the symptoms of the trouble were corrected. I hope that my statement will lead other kidney sufferers to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

RE-ENDORSEMENT.
Some time later when Mr. Howard was interviewed, he said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have proven very beneficial to me. You are welcome to continue the publication of my former statement."

THE NATIONAL GRANGE

Conducted by Charles M. Gardner, Editor of the National Grange, Westfield, Mass.

HUMBLE EXPRESS MONOPOLY

Changed Situation in Which the Great Companies of the Country Find Themselves.

The changed situation in which the great express companies of the country find themselves, as the result of parcel post enactment and of the noteworthy activity of the Interstate Commerce Commission to pull express rates down to a reasonable figure, is well set forth in an editorial in the last issue of the National Grange Monthly; while the part the grange has had in bringing about this tremendous change is significantly mentioned. The editorial is as follows:

"A spectacle indeed has been that presented during the present month. In the attitude of the great express companies of the country as they appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission pleading for mercy, in a protest against the reduction in express rates which the commission recently ordered. Literally shedding tears in their misery, the representatives of this mighty former shipping monopoly told their tale of woe, the fearful inroads upon their business made by parcel post, their diminishing profits, the prospect of fast-vanishing dividends. No longer the proud, arrogant monopoly of old, indifferent to every plea of outraged shippers, secure in a position safe from every possible assault. Verily, how are the mighty fallen!"

So much for what parcel post, in three short months, has done to humble the greatest extortion that ever planted its foothold upon the American public. So much for what the grange has done, for parcel post and the grange are synonymous. Furthermore, it is to be remembered that the very Interstate Commerce Commission, which has slashed express company rates in the interests of the public, was the direct outcome of an agitation originated and aroused by the granges of the country.

Surely the express companies will have reason to remember the grange! And so, too, have the American people as well."

WONDERFUL RECORD GAINS.

Some interesting figures have recently been gotten together to indicate the fastest-growing granges of the country during the past year, and the figures are interesting, because they furnish indisputable evidence that an organization must be in healthy, wholesome shape that can make such a growth as these in 12 months' time. The record granges are shown as follows:

Amity Grange No. 209 of Holyoke, Colo., was organized April 13, 1912 with 35 charter members. One year later it had 60 members, showing a year's net gain of 71 per cent.

West Boylston Grange No. 106 of Massachusetts was started a year ago with 92 charter members, and during the 12 months it admitted 70 new members, a gain of 76 per cent.

Driblin Grange No. 1409 in Canfield, O., reports a year's gain of 100 per cent. A year ago it had 52 members, which were exactly doubled within the year.

The Pond Oreille Grange of Washington had 21 charter members when it was organized February 22, 1912. One year from that date it had 52 members, equivalent to a year's gain of 147 per cent.

Bridgewater Grange No. 201 of Massachusetts offered its record in the contest in the delightful belief that it would distance all competitors, for in the one year, from January 1, 1912 to January 1, 1913, it increased its membership from 51 to 146, a gain of 186 per cent.

This was hard to beat, but some one who could do it ultimately appeared. A record of 190 per cent. gain in a single year was furnished by Worcester Grange No. 1274 of Worcester, N. Y., inasmuch as its membership increased from a charter list of 65 on August 17, 1912, to a total of 186 in just six months' time.

Next came the secretary of Grange No. 82 at Mendell, Idaho. With 45 members on January 1, 1912, it increased to 135 on January 1, 1913, or a net gain of 200 per cent. in 12 months.

Here the issue rested for a while and it was thought by those conducting it that the maximum had been reached. But then Poplar Grange No. 359 of California showed up its record and all the other big ones were immediately set aside into the shade. For in that grange the year's figures showed a total gain of 246 per cent. The 37 charter members with which the grange was organized on January 28, 1912, being increased in 12 months to 128 members.

So far no one has appeared to contest with Poplar Grange for the honors and it is hardly believed that a better year's grange record in membership can be shown. However, such figures as these are tremendously significant of the vigor and vitality of an organization that can recruit itself with any such rate of growth.

Stirring Addresses.

National Master Oliver Wilson was the guest of the state grange sessions of Colorado and Montana, and gave a stirring address at each.

GOOD SHOES !!

It is unnecessary for us to remind those who have worn Bass Shoes to be sure to get another pair this year.

Can You Recall

When the brakes were all of the "Armstrong" pattern?

The jerks of the link and pin coupling?

How you could tell as the train started the number of cars by counting the jolts?

Remember the good old air-tight stoves to heat the ends of the cars?

And the lard oil lamps to change the darkness into glimmer?

Remember those good old days?

Some Personal Effects.

When the late J. Pierpont Morgan was in Washington as a witness during the senate investigation of presidential campaign contributions last fall he dropped into the offices of the revenue service in the treasury department, and was met by a clerk.

"Well, what can I do for you?" asked the clerk, who did not know the great financier from a side of sole leather.

"I'm thinking about moving some of my personal effects from my London town house to New York," said Mr. Morgan, politely. "I want to find out whether or not they are dutiable."

"Well," said the clerk, looking profoundly wise, "what is the value of the stuff?"

Right there the clerk got the shock of his life.

"Oh," replied Morgan, "something, I should say, between seven and ten millions of dollars."

ECZEMA FOR 20 YEARS.
Cured by Our Reliable Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve.

For twenty years I suffered from eczema. My skin would break out and itch and burn terribly. I heard of Saxo Salve and decided to try it. After two or three applications I found great relief and before I had used one tube I was completely well. If it will benefit others who suffer from eczema you may publish my letter, as I believe Saxo Salve will do just what you claim it will.—A. Pritchett, Shelbyville, Ill.

It is astonishing, even to us, to see how Saxo Salve, our new remedy for skin affections, allays the itching, softens, soothes and heals the skin in all sorts of eruptive disorders, such as eczema, barber's itch, ringworm, tetter, etc.

It is guaranteed to help you—we cheerfully give back your money if it does not.

Not the Proper Word.
"Did you send Mr. Dreiser the samples he asked for?" inquired the tailor.

"Yes," replied the clerk; "I'm just finishing our letter to him. I'm sending it 'Trusting to have your order.'" "What! Cut out that word 'trusting' and make it 'hoping.'"—Catholic Standard and Times.
